1,500,000 Cheer MacArthurs On Arrival In New York City

Giant Parade Today Starts At 11 A. M.

New York, (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur came back to New York last night, a tired, triumphant hero who said at last he felt he was really home. An estimated 1,500,000 persons welcomed him to the city.

A trench coat wrapped around his soldierly figure, the world-famed gold-braided cap jauntily atop his head, the general stepped down from his Constellation at International airport at Idlewild, Queens, at 9:25 p. m.

The plane landed at 9:16 p. m. after a 56-minute flight from Washington, where MacArthur addressed a joint meeting of Congress and got a tremendous public welcome earlier in the day.

"When we reached the city of New York, we knew we had come home," the five-star MacArthur said as bands played, cannon roared and flags whipped in the breeze.

The MacArthurs left New York 14 years ago, immediately after their marriage and had not been back since.

The airport greeting beneath an almost full moon took only minutes and was very informal.

"This is only a sample of what we intend to do tomorrow," Mayor Vincent Impellitteri told MacArthur. "You will get the biggest and warmest parade this country has ever witnessed."

Impellitteri's promise was based on predictions that 5,000,000 New Yorkers will join in welcome to the general in a wild, 15-mile ticker-tape celebration beneath the towers of Manhattan today. The parade will start at 11 a. m.

But thousands of the city's restless millions couldn't even wait until today for their first welcome-home glimpse of MacArthur, his attractive wife and their 13-year-old son.

They converged a thousand strong at the airport, although there was little chance of their even seeing MacArthur because of the distance at which they were kept.

Other thousands patiently lined the wide, sweeping boulevards of Queens to shout a welcome as MacArthur's motorcade moved in majestic order for 14 miles from the airport to Manhattan.

Still another 25,000 stood behind police barricades on Park Ave. and the streets surrounding the elegant, massive Waldorf-Astoria hotel where the MacArthurs will stay in New York.

In contrast to the wild mob scenes when the ousted Far Eastern commander landed in San Francisco earlier in the week, the airport reception was fairly orderly.

As his giant Constellation, the Bataan, glided in with winking wing lights of red and green, about 300 spectators broke loose from the terminal area a mile away from the plane.

They raced madly toward the big plane, overwhelming police in their rush. But they soon lost steam and were safely corralled while still some distance from MacArthur's party.

Engines of planes warming up were stilled and Idlewild—biggest airport in the world—was almost quiet. The near-hush was a strangely effective gesture to television and radio announcers whose words almost certainly would have been drowned out by the normal hubbub.

MacArthur seemed tired but relaxed as he stepped down from the plane along steps draped in red, white and blue.

The general had a word for the waiting group of newsmen who met the plane.

"You know," he told them with solemn humor, "it has taken me 71 years and travelling 10,000 miles in the last eight days to find out who truly rules the United States."

Then his face broke into a smile and waving his hand at the reporters, he added:

"I found out it's you—the press."

With his even soldier's stride he took a turn in front and behind a 65-man color guard.

He shook hands, laughed and chatted briefly with some of the official reception committee of about 100 civic and military leaders.

Three 75 millimeter cannon roared one after another in a 17-gun salute to the five-star hero.

A 50-piece Army band valiantly tried the spring night with marches and other music.

Allied Flame-Throwers Burn Out Die-Hard Reds Manning Rear-Guard Posts

Tokyo, Friday, (AP)—Allied flame-throwers burned out die-hard Red troops manning rear-guard outposts of a slow, general Communist withdrawal yesterday in central Korea.

In rainy weather thickened by Chinese-made smoke screens the fire spurts twice dislodged stubborn Reds from hills and bunkers on the road to Chorwon.

There was little activity by enemy forces around the Hwachon reservoir, which was captured by Allied forces Wednesday.

Tanks that had been stalled 24 hours south of the Chinese Red headquarters city of Chorwon followed up the flame attacks and moved into new positions.

On the western front U. N. patrols entered Kaesong town for the fourth consecutive day and found no opposition.

Allied forces holding Hwachon town and the big Hwachon hydroelectric reservoir dam found very light enemy activity.

Rainy skies cleared today to permit resumption on large scale air attacks.

Rain and clouds held Fifth Air Force fighters to only 20 sorties by dusk yesterday. It was the lowest number since Feb. 9, when only seven were mounted.

The Chinese and North Koreans pulled back deeper into North Korea with only token resistance. There was a growing feeling among front-line officers that the Allied drive had pushed almost as far ahead as it safely could and that the next move was up to the Chinese.

However, many still believed the enemy still might launch his long-awaited spring counter-offensive, with more than 600,000 troops massed for a major assault.

These officers felt the Reds had been waiting for spring rains to bog Korea's roads, and for increased air and artillery support.

Ridgway Tells Occupation Troops In Japan 'We Stand Under Imminent War Threat'

Sendai, Japan, (AP)—A grave, intense Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told new American occupation troops yesterday "to all intents and purposes, you're here in war."

"We stand under the imminent threat of war which can be unleashed at the time and place of choosing of other people."

The new United Nations and occupation commander made a flying trip to this base 200 miles north of Tokyo to see the newly arrived 40th Division from California.

He spoke at a parade of troops at Camp Schemmelpfenning, then flew back to Tokyo last night.

The 40th Division is the first occupation force in this area since the Seventh Division went to Korea last August.

"However good you think you are," Ridgway told the troops, "and I know you are good—you've got a long way to go to reach that standard of veteran, seasoned combat troops who are just across the water—our own, I mean."

"So, I am confident you'll use every minute of the time you've got, because you don't know, and I don't know, when the chips will be down."

Earle Johnson, assistant secretary of the Army, who made the trip with Ridgway, emphasized, "The fact that there is a new supreme commander does not mean that there's any change in our attitude toward Communism or any change in our attitude and determination to stop Russia and all the aggressive tactics of the dictatorships—it's our intention to carry on."

Kefauver told the editors that the place for action against gamblers and other underworld elements is "Main street, not Pennsylvania avenue (Washington)."

He also stressed that law enforcement is and should be a local matter, and legalizing gambling is not the answer to the problems spotlighted by the cross-country probe conducted by his committee.

Agrees To End Strike

Tehran, Iran, (AP)—Strikers in the oil refinery city of Abadan were officially reported last night to have agreed to return to work immediately if the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. pays them for the days they were idle.

Draft Quota Cut

Harrisburg, (AP)—Pennsylvania's May draft call was reduced yesterday from 4,243 to 1,872 men. State Selective Service headquarters said the cut was in line with a May reduction from 60,000 to 40,000 in the National quota for May.

HST, Advisers Unanimous On Mac's Ouster

Washington, (AP) — The Pentagon said last night that President Truman removed Gen. Douglas MacArthur from all his commands "upon the unanimous recommendations of the President's principal civilian and military advisers, including the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

This was the military's reply to MacArthur's statement that his proposals for conducting the war in the Far East had been shared by practically every military leader "including our own Joint Chiefs of Staff."

MacArthur told Congress yesterday that "from a military standpoint" his views "have been fully shared in the past by practically every military leader concerned with the Korean campaign, including our own Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Last night's Pentagon's statement did not specifically deny what the General said.

The Pentagon statement said: "In response to inquiries from the press concerning General MacArthur's reference to the Joint Chiefs of Staff, a Pentagon spokesman said that the White House had authorized him to state that the action taken by the President in relieving General MacArthur was based upon the unanimous recommendations of the President's principal civilian and military advisers including the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The reasons for General MacArthur's relief have been stated previously by the President."

The President said in removing MacArthur from his Far Eastern commands last week that MacArthur was unable to support wholeheartedly the policies laid down by the United Nations and United States for conducting the Korean war. Later the President declared the policies advocated by MacArthur carried a grave risk of World War Three.

The decisions and recommendations of the Joint Chiefs make, to Defense Secretary Marshall, and to President Truman and the National Security Council, are secret.

Taylor Heads Wage Board

Washington, (AP)—President Truman called Dr. George W. Taylor, head of the World War Two Labor board, back into the government yesterday as temporary chairman of the new Wage Stabilization board.

The White House announced that he agreed at a conference with Mr. Truman to head the new 18-member board throughout its organizational period.

The new agency, with power to make recommendations in labor disputes seriously affecting defense mobilization, will replace the Wage Stabilization board which collapsed after labor members withdrew from it two months ago in a dispute over the 10 per cent wage increase formula and mobilization policies in general.

Smoking In Bed Costs Man's Life

Hicksville, N. Y. (AP)—Twelve days ago, firemen broke down the front door to save the life of Joseph Skensky, 33, overcome by smoke. He accidentally started a fire while smoking in bed.

Wednesday, neighbors noted smoke-blackened windows in the home where Skensky lived alone and called firemen again. They broke down the same front door and found Skensky dead in bed.

He had been smoking in bed again, firemen said, started a new fire and died of smoke poisoning.

General Sticks To Strategy For Extension Of War Against China

Washington, (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in a fighting speech before Congress, defended the whole of his Far Eastern strategy yesterday and said he had understood that his views were shared in the past by "our own Joint Chiefs of Staff."

MacArthur, quiet but emphatic in his history-making appearance before a joint meeting of the Senate and the House, laid down these foundation stones in his Far Eastern Strategy:

CLASPING A WELCOME HOME bouquet, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur rides with the former supreme commander and their son, Arthur, through the streets of San Francisco a half million or more witnessed the parade through the business district of the city.

More Than Half Million View Parade

Washington, (AP)—More than a half million people yesterday roared out their Washington welcome to MacArthur, the general who lost his command but not his fighting spirit.

From the time MacArthur left his hotel at noon until he returned three and a half hours later, the applause was almost continuous.

And the cheers came all the way from senators down to tiny tots barely big enough to wave their small American flags.

Inspector M. H. Raspberry of the U. S. Park police estimated the crowd at 550,000. Some veteran reporters of Washington parades insisted it was the biggest turnout here, ever.

The open air convertible used by MacArthur was on loan from the White House. But instead of a secret service driver, the Army and one of its own men at the wheel.

Bright But Cool Day Predicted

New York (AP) — The United States Weather bureau forecast a bright, cool day for New York City's "General MacArthur day" today.

A high temperature of 50 to 55 degrees was predicted.

Fresh westerly winds were due to moderate before the big welcoming parade gets under way at 11 a. m.

Congressman Describes Powerful Nerve Gas Developed By U. S. Chemical Warfare Service

New York, (AP) — The story of a powerful nerve gas of the U. S. Chemical service is told by Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes (D-Fla.) in the May issue of the Magazine Saga.

"The weapon's presence," he writes, "cannot be detected by the human senses. A drop of liquid the size of a dime on exposed skin brings death in a matter of minutes; its vapor inhaled for a few seconds may be fatal. It has no color, odor or taste; so insidious is its action that laboratory findings after death reveal no trace of it in the body."

"Its story is being told now because its war potential, properly applied, may prove greater than the atom or hydrogen bomb. Even its technical name is a secret—we may only refer to it as a nerve gas."

Rep. Sikes is a member of the armed services subcommittee of the House Appropriations committee. He also has been an officer in the Chemical Warfare Service.

Rep. Sikes says the gas was first developed by the Germans in World War Two. We heard about it and produced our own. And ours is even more deadly than the original.

He writes of seeing a captured German film showing a "shapeless cloud" rolling toward some tethered goats.

When the goats were touched by a charged wire, they plunged and tried to butt their invisible foe. They were dying in a matter of seconds.

He says he has seen the gas, in a two-gallon jar, and in appearance it might have been so much distilled water. He does

Highlights Of MacArthur's Busy Day In Nation's Capital

Washington (AP)—The famous man with the rumpled Army cap has known victory and defeat, glory and rejection, but he didn't quite know how to take Washington's roaring ovation yesterday.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur fiddled with his gloves, and nervously picked at the notes for his thank-you talk, as he stood in the shadow of the Washington monument with the deep-throated roar of the crowd wailing him in.

Cannon boomed—A 17-gun salute. MacArthur's face froze. His fingers weren't quite steady as they touched the visor of his cap. You couldn't read his expression. It might have been agony or pride or reminiscence.

"Old soldiers never die—They just fade away," MacArthur told Congress. The general is 71. In the hushed, jam-packed galleries, some people wept openly. Many others managed a wry smile, and brushed at their eyes.

"Old soldiers never die." Where did that expression come from? MacArthur said it was from a West Point song he remembered from his cadet days. The library of Congress says it was originally a British Army song, composer unknown.

On television, you may have noticed an attractive brunette shown by the cameras over MacArthur's right shoulder at the Washington monument ceremony.

She was Mrs. Matthew B. Ridgway, wife of the general who has taken over all of MacArthur's commands.

Mrs. Douglas MacArthur wore black on her husband's great day. But her costume included a huge white orchid, and she waved a white handkerchief in acknowledgment of the cheers and she rode with her husband and their son in the triumphal motorcade.

Young Arthur MacArthur is just 13. He's never been in the United States until this week. He had a front-row seat for his father's address to Congress. He scanned the galleries anxiously for a while until he spotted his mother. She waved to him. He grinned and relaxed.

President Truman didn't watch MacArthur's Congressional speech on television. The hour of MacArthur's speech, the President had something else to do—an appointment with secretary of state Dean Acheson, whose Far Eastern policies differ markedly from Douglas MacArthur's.

"Many radio and television listeners thought they noted a resemblance between MacArthur's voice and the well-remembered voice of Franklin D. Roosevelt. There was a somewhat similar broad A, for one thing though Roosevelt went to Groton and Harvard while MacArthur grew up on Army bases and went to West Point.

"I asked for reinforcements, but was informed that reinforcements were not available."

Then he said he "made clear his belief that Chinese Communist air bases had to be destroyed, that the 'friendly Chinese force of some 600,000 men on Formosa' should be used, and that the China coast should be blockaded."

Otherwise, he said, "we could rope at best for only an indecisive campaign with its terrible and constant attrition upon our forces if the enemy used his full military potential."

MacArthur said he had called for new political decisions to adjust policy to the fact of Red China's entry into the war. "Such decisions," he said, "have not been forthcoming."

MacArthur recalled an old barracks room ballad, quoting it: "Old soldiers never die—they just fade away."

"I am closing my 52 years of military service. And like the old soldier of that ballad I now close my military career and just fade away, an old soldier who tried to do his duty as God gave him the light to see that duty."

"Goodbye."

One — That further economic and military action must be taken against Red China.

Two — That such action will not necessarily bring the Soviet Union into the struggle, starting a third world war.

Three — That the United States is strong enough to protect itself on two fronts.

At the same time, he said he did not advocate sending American ground forces into continental China. He referred to "600,000 friendly Chinese forces on Formosa."

The speech drew mixed reaction—most of it along party lines.

Republicans called it "noble" and "magnificent." Democrats applauded MacArthur's eloquence but some of them said the speech had not changed their view that his policies would lead to a third world war.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who heard the speech by television, called it "a very fine speech. But as to details, you have to study things word by word." He did not comment on MacArthur's claim that the Joint Chiefs had, he understood, been in agreement with him "in the past."

From Capitol Hill, and after a congressional luncheon, MacArthur rode to the Washington monument for ceremonies. The parade and the ceremonies, police estimated, were witnessed by 550,000 people.

Then MacArthur made a brief speech to the Daughters of the American Revolution, in which he, struck out at:

"Internal subversion and corruption and detailed regimentation over our daily life."

The general named no names but his hearers had small doubt that he was aiming, in part at least, at the Democratic administration.

His address to Congress, while it was restrained in tone and manner, was a fighting speech all the way.

It drew wild applause at many points. MacArthur was interrupted more than 30 times by cheering. And at the end, just before the general said "goodbye," tears were running down the cheeks of many of his listeners.

MacArthur retreated not an inch from the pattern of Pacific defense he has been advocating for many months—a set of policies that finally brought his abrupt discharge by order of the President.

He reviewed, and re-advocated the main points of that strategy again yesterday, and then, in a voice that almost broke with his own emotion, he said:

"For entertaining these views, all professionally designed to support our forces committed to Korea and to bring hostilities to an end with the least possible delay and at a saving of countless American and Allied lives, I have been severely criticized in lay circles, principally abroad, despite my understanding that from a military standpoint, the above views have been fully shared in the past by practically every military leader concerned with the Korea campaign, including our own Joint Chiefs of Staff."

"I asked for reinforcements, but was informed that reinforcements were not available."

Then he said he "made clear his belief that Chinese Communist air bases had to be destroyed, that the 'friendly Chinese force of some 600,000 men on Formosa' should be used, and that the China coast should be blockaded."

Otherwise, he said, "we could rope at best for only an indecisive campaign with its terrible and constant attrition upon our forces if the enemy used his full military potential."

Business News In Monroe Area

The essential character of automobiles to national economy and defense, in the face of a common acceptance or take-it-for-granted attitude, was emphasized yesterday by Jess Haynes, local area chairman of the National Automobile Dealers association.

Indicative of the importance of the automobile today is the fact that 71 per cent of the families in the United States own cars and are dependent upon them for essential transportation. Mr. Haynes noted with over half their use devoted to purpose of making a living.

Because locally franchised car dealers are familiar with these and similar facts on essential character of the automobile, they are seriously concerned about proposals which would impose too stringent controls on the production of cars and necessary replacement parts or which would keep those who need dependable transportation from obtaining cars through excessive automotive taxes or discriminatory credit controls.

Local painting contractors have come up with an answer to recent instances of paint peeling and blistering. From the National Paint, Lacquer and Varnish association, Washington, D. C., comes the finding that these instances are a direct result of the heavy wind and rainstorm which struck this region and entire Eastern seaboard last November 25.

Full extent of the damages will not become apparent until weather becomes warmer. Facts indicate, they say, damages from November storm will develop into the worst paint disaster ever to strike the East.

Moisture blown between siding of buildings, under roofs, around windows actually boils when sun rays strike the side of buildings. No paint exists which can stand the effect of this boiling and drawing-out power when sun rays strike sides of buildings, national paint experts advise. Poor workmanship or poor quality of paint is not involved, these authorities advise local contractors.

First quarter showed operating revenue of 11.6 per cent higher than those for the same period in 1950.

Death Of Tobyhanna Man At Bottom Of Well Laid To Exposure After Fall

Tobyhanna—A 54-year-old Czechoslovakia-born State Highway survey crew laborer died of exposure here after he apparently fell into a shallow seven-foot well behind his two-room dwelling.

He was found dead and partially submerged in four feet of water by a neighbor at 7:30 a. m. yesterday.

Pfcs. Homer Jones and Robert Latzo, who investigated for Mount Pocco State police, identified the victim as Alex Bemak, whose address was Box 67, Tobyhanna.

The troopers said they were called to the Bemak property by Mrs. Mildred Oney, of Tobyhanna, who went to the well behind Bemak's little cottage to draw a bucket of water and found the man's body in the water.

Bemak's body was slumped over in a near sitting position when the officers arrived. His head was submerged, but an autopsy ordered by District Attorney Detleff A. Hansen disclosed that the man had died of exposure rather than by drowning.

Mrs. Oney told police that she had been at the well at 8 p. m. Wednesday and nothing was amiss at that time, so it was concluded that Bemak, who was known to have been ill and unable to work since mid-March, went to the well during the night and fell in while reaching for the water bucket.

It was stated that the victim probably collapsed after attempting to pull himself out of the well. In his weakened condition, he undoubtedly was unable to call loudly for help, the investigators said.

Mrs. Oney, who discovered the body, regularly uses the well which is situated behind her home and the Bemak shack.

Bemak, according to residents, has lived alone since coming to this community. He came to the United States 30 years ago and worked as a laborer since that time.

He has no known survivors in this country or in Czechoslovakia. Dr. E. O. Headrick, Mount Pocco physician, who conducted the autopsy, released the body to the Wesley Franklin funeral home, Moscow.

Abeloff Sells Local Property

H. Murray Abeloff, Stroudsburg, yesterday transferred title to a property at 121 First St., to William J. Notestine, of Jackson township, according to a deed placed on file at the office of Register and Recorder Floyd Butz.

In another transaction, Jennie Fichtman, Pocco township, conveyed title to a property in the Swiftwater section to Henry W. and Ethel L. Bauman, East Stroudsburg.

More than 297 million dollars are spent annually in Pennsylvania for personal services in barber shops, beauty parlors, laundries, dry cleaning and dyeing establishments, etc., according to the Census Bureau.

Arrangements Completed For Borden Rites

Gilbert—Funeral services for Mrs. Elsie Marie Borden, wife of Lewis Borden, of Gilbert, will be held 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the Kresge funeral home in Brodheads-ville.

Mrs. Borden died unexpectedly at her home at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday. She was 53.

Rev. Howard Haines, of Hollisterville, Pa., brother of the deceased, will conduct the rites. Interment will take place in a cemetery at Mount Holly, N. J.

Friends may pay respects at the funeral home in Brodheads-ville from 7 to 9 p. m. today.

Mrs. Borden, a former resident of Camden, N. J., came to the Gilbert area 17 years ago and had resided here since that time. She was a member of the Gilbert Reformed church and the Women's Guild of the church.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, are one son, Robert Borden, also at the home; one daughter, Mrs. Elsie May Montalto, now in California; her father, John Haines, who resides in New Jersey; five brothers, Raymond, of Camden; John, Riverton, N. J.; Elwood, also of Riverton; William, another New Jersey resident; and Rev. Haines, the Hollisterville, Pa. clergyman.

Also, five sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Longacre, Westmont, N. J.; Mrs. Anna Richman and Mrs. Ruth Bruce, both of Camden; Mrs. Edna Herman, Mayfair, suburban Philadelphia, and Mrs. Rebecca Williams, of New Jersey.

Chest Agencies Requested To Participate In Drive For Funds

Three Goals Set Forth At Meeting

Agencies receiving support from campaign funds of Monroe County Community Chest were asked last night to provide direct participation in the 1951-52 campaign.

The request was made at a special meeting, one of three preliminary studies which have been called by William S. Wyckoff, campaign chairman this year, to scrutinize chest campaigns generally and to set up broad framework of policies and organization for the new drive.

Every agency receiving aid from the Chest was represented at a dinner meeting Mr. Wyckoff gave to discuss the role of the agency in the 1951-52 campaign.

Jesse R. S. Flory, president of Community Chest, gave in his introductory remarks a review of the 1950-51 effort and some findings which have developed from a study of the campaign. Attitudes have turned listless.

Mr. Wyckoff asked agencies to first name "a campaign committee." He asked that those named be, not a paid worker or paid executive of the agency, but board members or from the agencies membership. Mr. Wyckoff requested that whoever is named will be willing to serve, not just named to serve, and willing to take a job in the campaign structure and work.

He asked that there be a complete re-examination from agency standpoint concerning what the agency can do in support of the Chest.

Finally, he asked that each agency set up a publicity or public relations committee, operating on a 12-month basis, to provide Chest headquarters with brief, human-interest story facts concerning what they are doing for releases to press and radio at campaign time.

Mr. Wyckoff noted that in one month the resort phase of the 1951-52 campaign will be under way and in a very few months the major campaign organization will have to be ready for Fall operation.

Dates will be set as soon as it is ascertained there will be no conflicting actions in the community.

The campaign chairman expressed the sentiment that this year's campaign will be set up in such a manner to permit a brief, but very intensive drive. He also expressed the belief the drive will be for a larger quota than the 1950-51 drive.

Necessity for this type of planning, Mr. Wyckoff emphasized, is substantiated by various facts developed from studies of previous campaigns.

One of the most impressive of these, he said, is fairly steady reduction in pre-capita giving. He said 3,600 persons gave $45,000 in 1946 compared with $56,000 from 5,600 in 1950.

Others attending the meeting were: Mrs. T. F. Rhodes, Dr. Nina M. Price, Mrs. L. J. Koehler, Mrs. Ethel West, executive secretary of the Chest; Judge Fred W. Davis, Roger Dunning, Dr. Francis B. McGarry, Attorney James T. Kitson, Paul J. Dellaria, Merle C. Ostrom, H. G. Heller and Elton Hall.

Annual receipts of Pennsylvania cleaning and dyeing establishments amount to more than $2 million dollars, the Census Bureau reports.

Closing Waters To Fishermen Poses Problem

Pocono Mountains Sportsmen's association was advised this week that fishing pressure points are building up in various sections because of waters being closed in many other sections. Paul Bittenbender, member of Pennsylvania Fish commission, said 2,000 miles of stream have been closed since 1938.

During the past year, work of sportsmen's clubs has brought about the opening of some 200 miles. The efforts of these clubs, including local sportsmen's units, are greatly to be desired to relieve fishing pressure on some bodies of water.

He outlined various other stocking problems on streams and lakes in this region and statewide. After his discussion, he held a question and answer period.

Dan Walton of the Game committee reported the association's pheasant raising project at Scott-run will soon start. Some 350 pheasant chicks will be placed in recently improved raising pens.

Several hundred hen and cock pheasants sent here by the Game commission have been stocked in the West End of the county, Game Protector John Doebling reported on this Spring stocking effort.

Announcement was made that the association will again send a boy to the Junior Conservation camp at State College this summer. Junior Sportsmen's unit will again aid Monroe County SPCA with a tag day project on May 12.

The association has cooperated in fish stocking program by dumping 80 cans of fingerling trout in small feeder streams to major trout waters in the region.

The association will request the Chamber of Commerce and Vacation Bureau to cooperate with various programs dealing with improvement of fishing conditions. They emphasized that advertising and publicity regarding this region contain mention of fishing facilities.

Reconstruction of the Snow Hill Lake dam by the Department of Forests and Waters is being continually pressed by the association. Stanley Cooper, Plymouth, Pa., nationally known fly-tying and fishing expert, gave a fly cast demonstration after the meeting.

Next session will be held May 16 in Stroudsburg Municipal building.

Floyd Butz Aspires To Reelection

Floyd Butz, East Sixth St., East Stroudsburg, incumbent in the Monroe county office of register of wills and recorder of deeds, yesterday announced his candidacy for that office in the primary election to be held July 24.

A native and life-long resident of the county, he first entered public life in 1947 when he was elected register and recorder on his first campaign for office.

Under the rules of the party, Mr. Butz is entitled to represent the Democrats as their candidate for the office he now holds.

He has long been identified with the party in Monroe county and is recognized as a party leader who has always worked for harmony within the ranks of the party itself.

Married and the father of three children, the incumbent recorder is a member of many fraternal organizations in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and throughout the county. He is a member of Zion Reformed church in Stroudsburg.

Since his election to office, Mr. Butz has given his personal attention to the job, and many improvements have been made during his tenure. Courteous and efficient service has been one of his hard-fought goals.

Temperatures To Dip Here

A cold air belt is expected to hit here today driving yesterday's mild temperatures down to a maximum in the upper 50s and creating a low of around 40 tonight.

Michael Hannon, weather observer, said yesterday's mild weather featuring a high of 66 and a low of 43, was produced by a low pressure area.

This condition also produced a few mild showers in certain sections of the county. Skies will be fair today.

Saturday will also probably be cool, but cloudy.

Wyckoffs Erect Home On Tract

Ernest H. Wyckoff Jr. and wife have erected a home on the road leading to the Macintosh farm off the Monroe-Carbon trail.

It was incorrectly stated in yesterday's edition that they had purchased a home formerly owned by Howard L. Keiper from Twin Hills, Inc. Twin Hills Inc. purchased the tract from the Keipers before the home was established.

Two Youths Injured, Power Service Interrupted When Car Strikes Truck, Pole

Bangor—Two Slate Belt youths were injured and the car in which they were riding was extensively damaged here late yesterday in a near head-on collision on the Market St. hill shortly before 5 p. m.

A light grocery truck, first obstructed hit, was also damaged, while a public utility service pole went down, throwing Bangor's third and fourth wards out of electrical service for two hours.

Woman Hurt Slightly When Hit By Car

Miss Jeanne Loewenthal, of Henryville area, received injuries of the left elbow and upper arm here yesterday when she was struck by a car on S. Seventh St. at Bank Alley.

Miss Loewenthal was knocked to the pavement by a car operated by Marion Loop, 73, of Cranford, N. J., as she started to cross to the east side of the street near the Lenape apartment building at approximately 1:10 p. m.

According to Chief James McConnell and Officer Charles Allen, of the borough police, Loop continued on unaware that his car had hit and knocked down the slight, statured woman.

After a check of Park Ave. traffic indicated that the Loop machine had proceeded up Foxtown Hill apparently bound for Portland and adjacent New Jersey areas, the license number of the car was telephoned to Interstate bridge police at Portland and at Delaware, N. J.

Within an hour, bridge officer Charles DeKay, on duty at the Delaware bridge, telephoned McConnell and Allen that he had stopped the wanted vehicle at that bridge and that he was holding the elderly man, his wife and another passenger.

Advised of the injury sustained by Miss Loewenthal, Loop expressed surprise and noted that there was no mark on his car to indicate that he'd struck any obstacle.

He returned to Stroudsburg, however, and paid a local physician for examining the woman. Chief McConnell said X-ray photos of the injured limb were also made.

When questioned by the police, Loop said he had not noticed Miss Loewenthal standing at the edge of the traffic lane as he drove past her.

Officer Allen noted that she had been hit by the side of the car body rather than the front section. The car struck the woman's hip, whirled her about and caused her to fall off balance to the concrete.

Woman Placed Under Arrest

Mrs. Patricia Robinson, of 33 Stofflet St., was arrested late yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Mabel Swink which charged the Robinson woman with assault and battery.

She was taken into custody by Stroudsburg borough police and later released on bail.

Rites Conducted For Mrs. Klock

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie J. Klock were held yesterday at the Dunkelberger and Westbrook funeral home, Stroudsburg. Rev. Francis C. Thomas, of the Stroudsburg Methodist church, was the officiating clergyman.

Interment was in the Hayes cemetery, Easton. Relatives were pallbearers.

Laurel Time Celebration To Be Held

A committee to conduct a Laurel Blossom time celebration in the Pocono Mountains during June was set up last night by the board of directors of Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau at the Penn-Stroud hotel.

Edward C. Jenkins, president, named R. LeRoy Dengler, Charles Geissinger, Berne F. Cramer, president of Mt. Pocono Chamber of Commerce and Irene Werry to arranged details of the affair.

Edmund Strickland, John Crandall, Harry Ahnert and Mrs. Vicki Fossa were named to publicity committee for the Laurel Time celebration.

Discussion on a proposal to establish a Vacation Bureau New York office ended by referring the matter to a committee.

Every report dealing with the second annual hotel show at Pocono Manor disclosed the 1951 exhibition was highly successful.

Board members were invited to the Chamber of Commerce annual membership campaign dinner Thursday, May 3 at Penn-Stroud hotel.

escaped injury, but the two youths were held fast in the wreckage of the Hughes sedan. A short circuit started a fire and firemen from all three Bangor companies rushed to the scene.

Damage to the electric lines left two wards without service until 7 p. m., when an emergency Metropolitan Edison Co. crew propped up the pole temporarily and lashed it in place with guy wires and ropes.

The accident was investigated by Officer Rodger Weidlich, of Bangor police, who said both the car and the truck were insured.

Young Frable had borrowed the car from his employer and was en route to secure a part for his own car when the accident occurred. He had picked up Snoddy in the downtown business section and was giving the Bangor youth a lift.

Francis L. Brodhead

F. L. Brodhead Candidate For Commissioner

Francis L. Brodhead, 810 Scott St., Stroudsburg, announced yesterday that he will seek nomination on the Republican ticket as Monroe county commissioner at the July 24 primary election.

Brodhead is a son of the late R. P. Brodhead of the Wheat Plains farm in Bushkill, and has been engaged in various capacities with the Pennsylvania State Highway department for 12 years. He is a member of the Stroudsburg First Presbyterian church and various other fraternal organizations throughout the county. He formerly resided in Northern Hamilton township where he served as Republican committeeman for a number of years.

Together with his wife, Helen Brodhead, who serves as Republican committeewoman in the Third ward of Stroudsburg, he operates a confectionary store at the corner of N. Seventh and Sarah Sts. in Stroudsburg.

Boy Scouts Look Ahead To Camporee

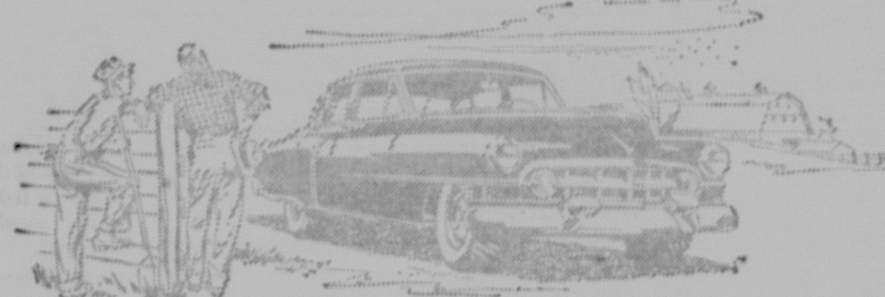

Plans for a District Four Boy Scout camporee to be held at the Snow Hill lake State recreation area on May 19 and 20 were announced here yesterday by the camping and activities committee of the district.

The two-day event will be sponsored by the committee and the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, the college fraternity affiliated with Boy Scouts of America.

All Scout troops and units in Monroe county have been urged to prepare for the Snow Hill expedition, and Gordon Coy, chairman of the camping and activities committee, said that it will be mandatory that each Scout group be accompanied by an adult leader.

Consider Birth Control

New Delhi, India, (AP)—Birth control and other methods of curbing India's rapidly growing population are being studied by the government, Prime Minister Nehru said yesterday.

You Can Even Choose It for Economy!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

It is true, of course, that when men and women move up to Cadillac, their motivating thought is not economy. Their hearts are set on owning the "Standard of the World."

But if they needed another impulse to move them to Cadillac, it could certainly be found in the car's remarkable record for practicality.

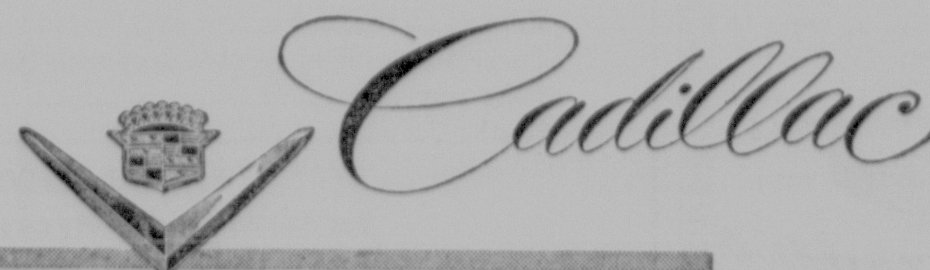

Even on the basis of its initial cost, a Cadillac represents a surprisingly sound investment. Indeed, some half million American motorists are driving other makes of cars which actually cost them more than they would have had to invest if they had purchased new Cadillacs!

And the surprise is no less when you look to the everyday aspects of Cadillac's economy. Few could ask for greater mileage from a gallon of gasoline. And the car's freedom from the needs of service—beyond the routine—has long been traditional.

And finally, of course, is Cadillac's amazing capacity to serve—the years and years of wonderful utility designed and built into it.

Yes—when you want a Cadillac car, you want it for what it is, and does, and represents. But what an extraordinary satisfaction it is to reflect that it is also so eminently practical!

We deeply regret that we are unable to deliver new Cadillac cars without some delay. But the demand for the car is unprecedented—and much of the company's energies and materials are now being devoted to the needs of national security. Once the car is delivered into your hands, however, we know you'll agree that—patience never brought a richer reward.

Survey Of Fire-Damaged Building At Bangor Raises Estimate Of Loss To At Least $75,000

Bangor — Damages in Wednesday night's Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. supermarket fire here jumped to $75,000 yesterday as fire company officials and representatives of the company made a careful survey of the charred debris.

A. F. Houck, fire recorder for the Rescue Fire Co., said last night that firemen and A & P officials have agreed that as far as replacement is concerned, the building is a $100,000 loss.

The building, which housed the supermarket on the ground floor, also contained offices of Atty. Edmund Tortizo, Leon Pinto, optometrist, and John Clifton, notary public, all on the second floor.

The third floor of the structure held an auditorium which was rented as a meeting place by Local 25, American Federation of Hosiery Workers.

Loss from smoke was also suffered at the adjacent Broadway market, and in four apartments upstairs over the Broadway market. Charles Bray, of East Bangor, is the owner of the smoke-damaged building.

The demolished A&P building was the property of Dominic Ronco, Bangor businessman.

Donald Wismer of Harmony, N. J., the tea company's Lehigh Valley supervisor, said yesterday that stock in the store was valued at $25,000 and this does not include countless thousands invested in store equipment.

The previous estimate of damage to the building had been cautiously stated as $30,000 on the night of the fire, but this figure rose to $50,000 yesterday.

Fire Chief Ben Albert said the origin of the fire is as yet undetermined.

He discounted his earlier theory that the blaze originated in the oil furnace, which is located at the rear of the building on the store level.

He said a careful examination of that area failed to show evidence of the fire starting around the oil burner apparatus. He added that the blaze probably got its start in the northwest corner of the storeroom.

Tulsa Choir Coming Here For Concert

The Tulsa University choir will present a concert here on Monday night, May 7 under the sponsorship of the Stroudsburg Rotary club as a benefit to the club's charity fund.

Ed Lawson, chairman of Community Service committee of the club, told members yesterday the choir, one of the most colorful and accomplished groups in collegiate circles, had been obtained through cooperation of Fred and Tom Waring and Waring Enterprises.

Tickets were distributed yesterday for sale by all members. There will also be a patrons' group. Gerald Anderson is in charge of patrons and Cliff Heller in charge of tickets.

Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of State Teachers College and a Rotarian, has made the college auditorium available for the concert.

Oscar Liljenstein was program chairman yesterday. He introduced an accomplished group of gymnastic exhibition stars from the college, who participated in a series of performances ranging from acrobatic dancing to acrobatics and novelty performances. Group included:

Joan Fairchild, acrobatic dance; Gladys Altomose, Indian clubs; Annetta Winnings, tap dance; Jean Roberts and Alphonse Stepanavage, hand balance; modern dance in three parts by Florabelle Dodson ballet; Marcie Kennedy and Annetta Winnings, rag dolls; Gladys Altomose and Jeanette Evans, Dorothea Oerkevitz, Jane Treon and Nine Weber; Florabelle Dodson, lighted dolls; Jeanne Zugel was pianist.

Rotarians Of District 262 To Convene At Buck Hill Saturday Through Tuesday

Buck Hill Falls—The 1951 annual conference of Rotary International, District 262, will attract hundreds of Rotarians and their wives from counties in northeastern Pennsylvania to the Inn here starting Saturday and concluding Tuesday morning.

Walter S. Peeney, past president of the Stroudsburg Rotary club and now district governor, will preside at the various conference sessions. Special arrangements have been made for entertainment and meetings of wives of Rotarians.

Actually business sessions do not start operating until Monday when

Walter S. Peeney

Stroudsburg, Mount Pocono, Pocono Mountain and Newfoundland clubs, all in District Governor Peeney's immediate vicinity, will seek to have 100 per cent attendance.

Stroudsburg club members have been advised that attendance at the 12:45 luncheon Monday or the 6:45 p. m. Monday governor's banquet will count as a qualified attendance to the 100 per cent attempt.

Saturday will be marked by golf, entertainment and dancing. Sunday after church, golf, an informal lecture, dinner, sacred song service and a lecture at night followed by a Bluestone room party are listed.

Rev. Frank H. Blatt, president of Stroudsburg club, will introduce District Governor Peeney for the opening sessions. One of the highlights of Monday's meeting will be an address by Joseph A. Caulder, past director of Rotary International and representative of Arthur Laguerre, president of Rotary International. A district governor will be nominated and given a reception at 6:30 p. m., Monday.

A town meeting of clubs will be top feature of Tuesday morning's final session.

CIO Protests House Action On Tax Bills

Harrisburg, AP—The State CIO cast a suspicious eye yesterday at the House action in holding up a vote on the corporate net income tax boost while passing the personal income tax measure.

"What kind of deal is that?" asked Harry Block, secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania State CIO council. "There's something suspicious about the whole thing."

The House voted 109 to 97 Wednesday to pass Gov. John S. Fine's proposal for a one-half of one per cent income levy to raise $119,000,000 in the next two years.

At the same time, it returned to the House Ways and Means committee a companion bill to increase the four per cent corporate net income tax to five per cent for another $44,000,000 in revenue.

Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican floor leader, said the corporation tax bill was recommitment on the basis that the House should retain possession of the measure until the Senate disposes of the personal income levy.

But Block said that if both measures are part of Fine's tax program they should move together.

The CIO and the AFL-Pennsylvania Federation of Labor are both on record against the personal income tax. The CIO claims a membership of 650,000 in Pennsylvania and the AFL, 800,000.

Meanwhile, rumblings of discontent among Republican senators continued to pose a problem.

Annual Party Slated Tonight

Tonight the Delaware Water Gap Fire Co. will hold its annual card party. It will be held this year in the new fire house and will be the first large affair to be held there since the official opening of the building last Friday.

The affair will commence at 8. There will be prizes awarded and the refreshments will be furnished and served by the Women's auxiliary of the company. Tickets may be obtained from any of the fire for the administration on its effort to enact the income tax.

Five GOP senators have announced they would vote against the bill. Those votes, coupled with the solid 20-vote Democratic bloc, would be enough to threaten passage of the measure.

Clubwomen Urged To Add Civilian Defense To Fields Of Service At County Meet

The Monroe County Federation of Women's clubs, meeting yesterday at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls, were challenged by the vice president of the northeast district, Mrs. William Crenshaw, to take seriously their share in civilian defense.

Terming it "the fourth branch of service," she urged women who are neither in the military nor the industrial line of defense to take their share in civilian defense, to join first aid classes and other fields of defense service.

She gave the challenge after she had summarized the reports of the various county chairmen, in the many fields of service performed by the member clubs. Mrs. Lloyd Altomose spoke on American Home projects; Mrs. Herbert A. Lorenz on the art classes; Mrs. Grant Knowles on citizenship;

Mrs. Arthur Helmes on conservation and gardens; Mrs. Andrew Lewis on education; Mrs. Anna Serfas read the report of the chairmen of International Relations, supplemented by the report of Mrs. Harry Phillips; Mrs. Olaf Pedersen on legislation; Mrs. Samuel O. Wells III, motion picture, radio and television;

Mrs. Edward C. Hess, music; Mrs. George Metzgar, peace; Mrs. J. E. Arnold, program; Mrs. Horace G. Walters, publicity; Mrs. Jack Ebling read the report on public welfare, and Mrs. Richard Fredenberg, welfare; Mrs. Harry Phillips on Youth Conservation, and the report of the historian, safety and literature committees were read by Mrs. Stanley Rader, secretary.

Mrs. A. A. Holbrook, county president, presided at the meeting which 85 women attended. Mrs. Andrew Lewis, chairman of registration, reported 20 from the Stroudsburg Senior club; 6 from the Stroudsburg Juniors; 9 from the Keystone club of Matamoras; 20 from Saylorsburg Progressive Women, and 30 from Barrett Woman's club, which served as hostess to the group.

The opening pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. George H. Reinhart, president of the Stroudsburg Junior club, and the invocation was given by Mrs.

Anna Serfas, president of the Progressive woman's club and the welcome by Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, president of the Barrett club.

The group adjourned to listen to the MacArthur broadcast before they had their luncheon with Mrs. Harry Shinnen giving the invocation. The tables were decorated with yellow jonquils, forsythia and greens.

The afternoon session opened with the National Anthem led by Mrs. Edward C. Hess, and the invocation by Mrs. A. L. Helmes.

Mrs. Leonard Shelley, State president of literature, urged the clubs to feature the works of American and Pennsylvania authors. Praising the Bible as the greatest literary heritage, Mrs. Shelley pointed out the current trend for religious books ranking high on the list of popular books.

Following the showing of a film on "Self Examination" through the courtesy of the Monroe county committee of the American Cancer society, Mrs. Elizabeth Hill Conrad gave a review of the current Broadway comedy, "Affairs of State," starring Celeste Holmes.

The presidents of all member clubs were present, including Mrs. Delbert Frizell, president of the Keystone Community club.

Mrs. Andrew W. Lewis and Miss Ida Shafer were in charge of registration; Mrs. Raymond Michener and Mrs. Elmer Daniels, of luncheon reservations, and Mrs. Weyland Ford, Miss Ida Brentini, Miss Nina Brentini, Mrs. Matthias Fischer, Mrs. John A. Segunne and Mrs. Karl Price, of decorations, and Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas as general chairman.

Garden Club Brings Spring To Meeting

It was spring inside and out yesterday for the members of the Monroe County Garden club who held its annual salad bowl luncheon yesterday afternoon at the YMCA.

The club rooms and buffet table were bright with sprays of forsythia, and the spring exhibits brought by the members were used as centerpieces for the individual tables. Mrs. Elwood Grant, of the Wild Flower study group, had arranged a wild flower study using ginger, witch hazel and wild violets which was used for the table of the president, Mrs. William Hawn.

Mrs. Irving Kiffin was chairman of the luncheon committee with Mrs. George Rung, Mrs. Merle Ostrom, Mrs. Sidney Cohen, Mrs. W. S. Stannard, Mrs. C. L. Gorman and Miss Ellen Hoffman assisting.

In her demonstration of flower arrangement, Mrs. M. J. Leitner illustrated three phases: The use of an everyday container, of basic greens, and artificial aids. Her arrangement included: A perfume bottle for a miniature; a sherbert dish for pansies; a jello mold and hot plate for daffodils and greens; a steak board and wood root for forsythia and daffodils with accent of yellow birds, and a silver teapot for pink tulips, blue hyacinth and greens.

Rev. Frank Blatt spoke on "Specimens for Exhibit," stressing that to grow beautiful flowers you must have flowers in the heart. And beyond that large blooms of special colors with perfect stems take time, money and fertilizer. He stressed the importance of de-budding at various stages, and gave specific suggestions for gladioli, dahlias, asters, delphinium and chrysanthemums.

Baptist Group At Hilliard's

Portland—The April meeting of the ladies' aid and missionary society of the Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. George Hilliard at Mt. Bethel with Mrs. Arthur Shoemaker as co-hostess.

Mrs. Elias Jones, president, presided over the business meeting and refreshments were served by the hostesses to Mrs. Frank Barlow, Mrs. Sarah Evans, Mrs. George Kitchen, Mrs. William Huber, Mrs. Irvin Henry, Mrs. Phillip Strunk, Mrs. Emma Stier, Mrs. James Weidman Jr., Mrs. Charles Shoemaker, Mrs. Elias Jones, Mrs. Ernest Courtney, Mrs. Ralph Hiltine and the hostesses Mrs. George Hilliard and Mrs. Arthur Shoemaker.

Williams Is Speaker At BPW Club

The Business and Professional Woman's club last night heard Arlington W. Williams, attorney, speak on some of the great problems of the day at their meeting at the Penn Stroud Hotel.

"It is an age of insecurity," he said with the paradox of the highest level of economy accompanied by confusion, frustration, fear and mental balance breaking under the strain. He attributed this insecurity to the fact that hearts have not kept up with minds either in the scientific, military or political field; to Communism, which he termed a "deadly peril from diseased minds that know no decent limitation; and to the fact that we have lost faith in government and our economic system.

In defense of that system, he pointed out that the Constitution adopted in 1789 had stood the test of time, of great expansion, of great wars and crises. The economic system, too, he said, has met the test of providing the highest standard of living for the masses of the people of any system yet devised.

Taxation, which is burdening system of free enterprise, he said, was the responsibility not only of government but of the individual who could not demand economy of other sections while demanding expenditures at home.

Questions and discussion followed his talk, which had been arranged by Dr. Nina Mae Price. In her absence, he was introduced by her daughter, Mrs. Horace Westbrook.

Miss Helen Kulp, president, presided at the meeting, and Mrs. Mildred Hoffstad introduced Terry Bartholomew and John Eaton who played piano and saxophone solos and duets.

A film on cancer was shown by Alfred W. Munson, and the coming X-ray campaign promoted by the Tuberculosis society was explained.

Final plans were made for the spring dance and spotlight revue being sponsored by the club, which will be held Saturday night, April 21, at the Bartonsville hotel with Bernie Parsons orchestra providing the music.

Gym Team Gives Preview At Altar Society

The gym team of Stroudsburg High school under the direction of Mrs. Mary Henning gave a preview of their Mardi-Gras entertainment planned for tonight at the high school, at the meeting of the Altar and Rosary society of St. Matthew's Catholic church on Wednesday night.

The girls presented samples of their program including a pirate dance, ballroom exhibition, Mexican hat dance, waltz drill, free hand club drill, a novelty drill, tap dance, tumbling and a Siamese dance.

Rochelle Sazsi and Charita DeYoung were accompanists, and Lynne Slaboski was narrator.

Preceding the program a film on Cancer was shown. Mrs. George Rung presided at the business meeting when plans were made for a bake sale on April 28 at Wyckoff's and the annual May dinner on May 23 at the Penn-Stroud hotel.

The society presented to Mrs. A. M. Hickey, their past president, a rosary in token of their appreciation and affection.

Mrs. Edwin Hermanns conducted an exchange sale, and Mrs. Carl Adelman was chairman of the hostess committee. Mrs. Richard Madigan and Mrs. Charles McCarthy poured.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It was a stimulating day—. Nobody was talking about the price of lamb chops or who'd entertained the night before, but about global strategy and the MacArthur speech.

Maybe if that were true, not just at the height of the excitement, but all the time, we'd all be a lot forwarder.

However, there was a lot of other excitement too, with meetings galore, and forsythia and daffodils scattering their sunshine all over the place.

And nowhere more appropriately than at the party marking Harry Miller's 50th anniversary with the choir. Fifty people there, too, neatly enough, the white minstrel put on by the juniors, delighted their elders.

Dr. Meyer Is Speaker At Barrett PTA

Barrett—Dr. Nathan G. Meyer, head of the education department at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Barrett PTA held at the auditorium of the Consolidated school Wednesday night.

Presented by Mrs. Marie Price, program chairman, Dr. Meyer gave an illustrated lecture on the subject, "Understanding Children." Interest created was signified by the numerous questions asked which he answered.

Joseph Murray, head of the health education department of the school, told of the county survey for X-ray chest tests sponsored by the Monroe County Medical society and the T. B. society. The unit will be in the county May 15-19 and he urged all persons over 15 to take advantage of the same. There is no charge for the tests.

Plans were made for a game party to be held at the school May 2. The 10th grade room was awarded the prize for having the largest percentage of parents in attendance.

The display of the science department of the high school was inspected with much interest. The projects included will be entered in the Northeastern Pennsylvania fair.

Andrew Lewis, supervising principal of the school, made a number of announcements.

Refreshments were served by the home room mothers of the third and fourth grades—Mrs. Gordon DiFuria, Mrs. Howard Caprioli, Mrs. Don Shepherd and Mrs. Howard Doll, assisted by the home economics instructor, Miss Edna Mae Miller.

School For Parents Today To Feature Popular Authority On Teen-Age, Parent Relationship

Dr. William M. Smith Jr., professor of family relationships, School of Home Economics, Pennsylvania State College, will speak the School for Parents, being held tonight at 8 o'clock in the assembly rooms of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian church school.

Dr. Smith was requested to return by popular request, having appeared here several years before and made many friends, through his talk in a previous school for parents. He is scheduled to speak the end of this month at the State convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs.

Theme of this second session of the fifth annual School for Parents, sponsored as a public service by the local American Association of University Women will be "Parent-Teen-age Relationships."

Dr. Smith will speak from practical as well as academic experience since he has been married 12 years and has four children.

A graduate of Ohio State University, he received his Ph. D. in 1942 at Cornell when his dissertation was on "Social Participation of Young Married Couples."

He teaches a course in "Courtship and Marriage" at Pennsylvania State and has conducted three Marriage Institutes in Scranton. A member of the American Sociological society and the National Council of Family Relationships, Dr. Smith is also directing research projects on "Family Planning for Later Years," "Experiences in Family Financial Management," "Rating and Dating Patterns," and "Criteria of Mate Selection."

After his informal talk, a playlet "High Pressure Areas" will be presented as a thought-starter, and will be followed by a talk and discussion on general teenage problems.

A display of books and pamphlets for teen-agers and parents of teen-agers will be shown in connection with the school, which is open to the public without charge.

Sunday School Workshop At Tannersville

Henryville—During the Sunday school hour in Pocono Union church, those present heard of county school projects from Mrs. Ben Granacher and Mrs. Grant Keiper, leaders in the district and county work.

Mrs. Granacher explained the plans for the Sunday School workshop to be held at the Pocono Township school at 8 p. m. Tuesday, April 24. There will be sections for the various age groups Miss Roberts, state worker, will meet with the Beginners and primary group; Mrs. Hubert Newton with the juniors; John R. Wilson, YMCA secretary for the intermediates and Dale Learn with the adults.

Mrs. Keiper presented a flange-graph story of "Probu and the Tiger" a story of leprosy in a village in India which held the audience spell-bound.

The sermon delivered by Rev. Luke Rau during the worship hour was "Spiritual Cancer" in which he listed prejudice, greed, hypocrisy, and intolerance as spiritual cancers as serious as physical cancer now being so widely discussed.

Mrs. Reimel President Of Class Truth

Portland — The April meeting of Class Truth of the Methodist Sunday school was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Elwood Baker, Mrs. Newton Reimel, president, presided at the business and devotional service.

The class voted to give fifty dollars to the anniversary fund. Election of officers as follows: President, Mrs. Newton Reimel; vice president, Mrs. Elwood Baker; secretary, Mrs. Ray Hamilton; assistant secretary, Mrs. Fred Gardner; treasurer, Mrs. Lawrence Randolph; flower committee, Mrs. Fred Gardner, Mrs. Emma Ross and Mrs. Ray Hamilton.

After the social hour refreshments were served to Mrs. Daisy Decker, Mrs. Abbie Sutton, Miss Edith Emery, Mrs. Fred Shoemaker, Mrs. Margaret McCoy, Mrs. Jay Quick, Mrs. Newton Reimel, Mrs. Ray Hamilton, Mrs. Fred Gardner, Mrs. Lawrence Randolph, Mrs. Emma Ross, the hostess, Mrs. Elwood Baker.

Garden Club Plans Trip To Ardmore Garden

Tannersville—Members of the Pocono Garden club will on May 10 have a pilgrimage to a garden in Ardmore, and bus reservations must be made at once.

The invitation, from a friend of Mrs. Grover Kresge's to visit the garden in Ardmore, is one of a year's standing. The members plan to take a box lunch and the hostess will provide coffee and dessert.

Mrs. B. H. Granacher, president, has asked members to call her at once for reservations on the bus. Further details of the trip will be announced at the meeting on May 8.

Home For Rest

Rev. Amanda Jane Angle is home on furlough from missionary work in Florida and plans to spend several months at her home in Portland. She spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Snover, and was a visitor in Stroudsburg yesterday.

4th Quarterly Conference At Wesley Chapel

Effort — The fourth quarterly Methodist conference will be held at Wesley chapel Sunday afternoon, April 22 when Rev. Dr. Kitto, of Philadelphia, district superintendent will be in attendance.

Officers are requested to have their reports ready for submission at that time, when matters of vital importance to the circuit will be discussed.

The 165th session of the Philadelphia Methodist conference will be held in the Arch St. church, Philadelphia, with Sacrament of the Lord's Supper Wednesday, May 16, followed by daily sessions until the program has been completed.

Miniatures Shown At Bangor Junior Women

Bangor — The Bangor Junior Women's club met last night when miniature paintings and portraits were displayed by C. I. Dreisbach and Samuel Wolfe, both of the Lehigh Valley Art association in Allentown. The meeting was held at the town library.

Vocal solos were presented by David Beehler, of Pen Argyl; Mrs. Miriam Walworth, president, presided. Further plans were made for the annual mothers and daughters meeting next month.

Hostesses were: Mrs. Harold Albert, chairman; Mrs. Ray Weidlich, Mrs. George Plush Jr., Mrs. Edmund Trutzo, Miss Pauline Townsend.

Class To Meet

The regular meeting of the Ever Welcome Sunday school class of the Hamilton Union church will be held Friday night at the home of Mrs. William Haney.

Zion Church Guild Plan Family Night

The regular meeting of the Woman's Guild of Zion Evangelical Reformed church was held Tuesday night, April 17, in the Sunday school room, when Mrs. Floyd Shafer showed colored slides taken during a trip to Germany. The pictures proved interesting and educational.

The meeting was opened with a short devotional period under the leadership of Mrs. Martha Koch when remnants of various kinds for use of refugees in Europe were presented and dedicated by Mrs. Koch and Mrs. Hugh Altomose.

Routine business was discussed with Marie Altomose presiding. It was decided to observe Family Night in connection with the next meeting when a covered dish supper will be enjoyed and movies will be shown.

Refreshments were served from tea tables decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Imb's team acted as hostesses under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Dunn.

Mrs. Robert L. Miller and daughters, Jacquelin and Bonnie, have returned home to East Stroudsburg after spending a week visiting Mrs. Miller's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sabol, of Bridgeport, Conn.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY,
Sports Editor

Readers of daily newspapers usually find a safe harbor from war and politics on the sports pages, but the present affair involving General Douglas MacArthur has become so wide in scope that it even makes its presence felt in the section usually reserved for athletes of the present generation. Yet, when we stop and think of MacArthur's past, it's not too surprising that the veteran campaigner has reached the sports pages again, because Mac, being especially well known in baseball circles.

MacArthur has batted around a lot since his West Point days, having served in two World Wars and held the guiding reigns in the Korean campaign until cut adrift by President Harry Truman, for remarks and an attitude which didn't fit in well with the big wigs in Washington. Although he has been a top general for many years, Mac never once lost sight of the value of athletics in conditioning troops for the front lines and neither for the United States Army—thank goodness.

The early American troops in Australia underwent plenty of rugged training under Mac's watchful eye and athletics was an important part of the agenda. Even when the allied troops began to hop through the islands of the South Pacific, MacArthur and his aides were emphatic in their desire to see the troops play softball, basketball, football or any other form of athletics wherever and whenever possible. MacArthur and virtually every other army officer realizes that an athlete makes the best soldier. Germany and Japan are also agreed on this point, but both had to learn it the hard way.

Yesterday's speech delivered by MacArthur to the United States Congress was delivered by a man who knows the score, past, present and future. He knows the other team's signals, he realizes their playing strength and knows in advance with which parent club the opposition is trading. In other words, it wasn't a raw rookie that took his place on the speaker's stand yesterday, but rather a veteran who has been around the league a couple of times and knows every answer in the book.

Last week when the world was notified that MacArthur was finished as Commander of Allied forces in the Pacific, they pictured Mac as a baseball player who was reaching the end of the trail and had gone down on strikes. However, as it turned out the central figure had blasted a long drive and was touching all four bases on the way around. If there was any doubt about this, it was removed by the huge crowds at Honolulu, San Francisco and Washington to greet the returning soldier. The crowd in New York today is expected to be even larger, as the big city puts on one of its biggest celebrations in history for a returning hero.

MacArthur has gone on record as saying that he doesn't have any ambitions in politics, but his name continues to remain among those reportedly in line to succeed A. B. "Happy" Chandler, diamond commissioner who failed to have his contract renewed recently. There is no doubt that Mac would make a fine commissioner, but his age is against his getting the job. I wonder if during his athletic days at West Point, MacArthur ever thought that someday he would be the center of attention for the entire civilized world. It has been a long, hard road, one that athletics helped Mac travel.

The retiring general never won a popularity contest during the past war, but he was highly respected by all his troops, for his leadership and marvelous condition which enabled him to get around as well as some of his troops, many one-third as old. MacArthur has always remained in splendid condition, despite his advanced age, and in so doing has set an example for virtually every army man who has ever come under his command. The guy has what it takes—this nobody will ever be able to deny.

MacArthur finished yesterday's speech by saying that "old soldiers never die, but just fade away." Mac in turn said he would just fade away, as he retired from the Army after 52 years of outstanding service. However, this writer thinks MacArthur will be an exception to the old adage. He will die someday, but his memory will never fade away. Regardless of which side is right, MacArthur demonstrated that he had the stuff needed to prove himself a man. Much of this ability undoubtedly comes from his early athletic training on the plains of West Point.

As I pointed out at the beginning, this is an unusual column for a sports page, but I believe it brings a lesson to the minds of the younger generation, especially the boys. An athlete, who is also a good student, has a decided advantage over a non-athlete, a fact that has been proven over and over. Someone once said, "show me an athlete who is a student and I'll show you a man." The game may be tough fellows, but stick at it—you'll be glad you did someday.

Survivor Of Atomic Bomb Wins Marathon

Boston (AP)—A stolid 19-year-old Japanese schoolboy, Shigeki Tanaka, from atomic-bombed Hiroshima, strictly followed his own time schedule yesterday to become the sixth consecutive foreigner to win the famous Boston A. A. Marathon.

In so doing, however, he missed the 26 miles-385 yards course record by two minutes, six seconds. Tanaka broke the tape in 2:27:45, about two thirds of a mile ahead of John Lafferty, the sponsoring BAA's favorite.

But Tanaka had no regrets as jubilant countrymen crowned him with the traditional laurel wreath. He tried to make his face beam as brightly as the bomb that struck near his home city six years ago, which he recalls as "a great bright light."

Within Reach
After almost ignoring the terrific pace his 26-year-old countryman, Shunji Koyanagi, set from the first through the twenty-second mile, Tanaka negotiated the range of four hills so easily that he appeared certain to erase the 2:25:39 mark Korean Sun Bok set here in 1947.

But instead of extending himself over the last two miles of easy going Tanaka religiously followed his pre-race plans, which called for only a comfortable finish drive.

"I knew I would win if I stuck to my own schedule," the victor explained through an interpreter. "I didn't plan a record-breaking race, I ran only to win."

Greece's Athanasios Papagos, sixth here four years ago, finished third in the field of 154 starters in 2:35:27. He was 26 seconds ahead of Lou White, the durable New York Negro who fairly flew over the last third of the punishing course.

Koyanagi, forced to slow down when he hit the last and steepest hill struggled home in fifth place and the other Japanese entries, Yoshitaka Uchikawa, and Hiromi Haigo, were eighth and ninth respectively.

The other outstanding competitors in this third fastest race in 55 years were Johnny Kelley of West Acton, Mass., sixth; Canadian Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinthe, Que., seventh; and Jesse Van Zant of Boston, tenth.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

Cubs Blank Cincinnati, 3-0

Chicago (AP)—Paul Minner bested Willard Ramsdell in a pitchers' duel yesterday and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 3-0, before 4,626 chilled fans.

Ramsdell gave up only six hits to the Cubs, who handed the Reds their third setback in three games of the infant season.

First Run
The Cubs scored their first run on a fielders' choice after two hits in the first inning. Andy Pafko's single drove in the other two runs in the eighth.

Minner gave up seven hits, but was stingy with hits when danger threatened. He walked one batter, Cincinnati ... 000 000 000—0 7 0 Chicago ... 100 000 028—3 6 2

Banta Shipped To Fort Worth

Brooklyn (AP)—Jack Banta, the Brooklyn Dodgers' sore-armed righthanded pitcher, yesterday was sent to Fort Worth of the Texas league on option. Banta, 27 years old, has been with the Dodgers during parts of four seasons. He split eight decisions last year, but was bothered by a sore arm. He did not hurl an inning this spring. Dodgers officials said they hope the warm Texas climate will restore the strength to his arm.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Winds Hamper Wallenpaupack Search Crews

Lake Wallenpaupack — High winds again whipped up sizeable waves on Lake Wallenpaupack yesterday, making it impossible to proceed with the search for the bodies of two fishermen lost in the icy waters since last Sunday.

Milford State police announced that the water was too rough yesterday to permit grappling for the bodies of Amos J. Noble Jr., 39, of Wilson Borough and Harry A. Conner, 35, of Allentown.

The windy condition also prompted cancellation of an appearance by a crew from the Telford Fire department marine rescue platoon.

Equipped with diving apparatus, the Telford firemen-divers volunteered their services to Pike county last May in the search for a Scranton man who drowned while fishing the Lackawanna river.

The body of that victim, August Fritch, 28, was recovered after a week-long search.

Mrs. Larry Schulenberg and daughter, of Stroudsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Uhler of Allentown.

Many out of town sportsmen lined the streams here on Sunday. Due to unfavorable weather conditions the catch was reported to have been very light.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy S. Shupp visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Staples, Stroudsburg, on Saturday night.

No machine invented can blow glass as well as man.

Snydersville

Mrs. John McConnell
Subg. 2021-R-1

Miss Dorothy Shallhammer spent Saturday night with Jean Neyhart, Beverly Smith, of Meridian, Conn., spent the weekend with Mrs. John Smith of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Farrer and Ronnie Dickson visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neyhart on Sunday.

New 25-story catalytic cracking unit at CALSO's Barber, New Jersey, refinery.

NOW... from the world's newest and most modern refinery comes an even greater CALSO gasoline...

the NEW CALSO

The giant new CALSO refinery at Barber, New Jersey, is now in operation. Designed by the best engineering brains in the country, it marks an important step in CALSO's forward-looking program, and brings the investment in plant, tankers, ocean terminals and equipment to over $100,000,000.

Into the construction of this completely modern, completely integrated refining plant have gone the technical skill and resources of one of the world's greatest oil-producing and research organizations. Built to meet the rapidly mounting demand for CALSO Gasoline, the refinery brings to motorists of the eastern states a superior balanced motor fuel—the NEW CALSO.

Next time you're out driving, stop in at the familiar big red sign. Get a tankful of the NEW CALSO. See for yourself what top performance can mean in your car—in easier starting, faster pick-up, more steady power, longer mileage. Discover why CALSO is the New Big Name in gasoline!

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staples drove to Philadelphia on Friday and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hoover in Germantown, meeting their son, Pfc. James F. Staples, who has completed his basic training at the Marine base at Parris Island, N. C., on Saturday, when he arrived on a week's leave. The latter's fiancée, Jean Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Purdy Carson, of Delaware Water Gap, who is in training at the Methodist hospital, Philadelphia, also drove home with them to spend the weekend.

The thrift shop sale on Wednesday held at the Smithfield Consolidated school under the auspices of the PTA was a great success, netting $123.

Mrs. Charles Balmoose Sr., who has been in ill health for the past three months, observed her birth-day at home this week. Her condition is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Copenhaver of Stroudsburg, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rinker on Mosier's Knob.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Seitz and children, Linda and Laurie, of Cold Spring, N. Y. and John and Robert Kyss, of Ardley, N. Y., spent Sunday with Mrs. Seitz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stark Michaels. The latter's niece, Kathleen LaKavage, of the Silver Maple, Slattington, Pa. is spending a month visiting the Michaels.

Pfc. Jim Staples and Bernice Bond, of Stroudsburg, drove to Philadelphia on Tuesday to attend the opening ball game at Shibe Park between the Athletics and Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Icelow, of Muhlenburg Park, Reading, Pa.

spent Friday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Park W. Unangst.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dollbaum, of Kearsburg, N. J. are spending a month at their summer home on Mosier's Knob.

Mr. and Mrs. Park W. Unangst drove to New York this week to attend the quarterly meeting of the Scottish Terrier Breeders Association.

Curtis Lauds Help Given By College

T. Manning Curtis will lead one of the sectional meeting discussions at the Pennsylvania Association of Highway Safety Educators second annual conference in Hershey today and Saturday.

Mr. Curtis will discuss driver education systems using student teachers. Stroudsburg High School is the only school in the State using student teachers in its driver education program.

He pointed out last night his program of instruction would be handicapped if it were not for the student teachers from the State Teachers College.

"They are very well trained," Mr. Curtis asserted, "and this is due to the excellent instruction and supervision they have received from Howard R. DeNike, the college driver education instructor."

Both Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio missed out by one point in winning minor league batting titles. Gehrig hit .369 for Hartford in 1924. DiMaggio hit .398 for San Francisco in 1933.

Assembly Extends Bonus Deadline

Harrisburg, (AP)—The House today passed a Senate bill extending the deadline for applying for Pennsylvania's soldier bonus to Dec. 31, 1951. It went to the Governor.

The House previously sought to extend the deadline until Dec. 31, 1952, but later withdrew its amendment.

Under present law, the bonus application deadline expired July 1, 1950.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Don't suffer longer with these discomforts. If reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold, minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for ever to years. While often otherwise caused, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

This is the new social security tax return blank for reporting wages of household workers. First reports using these special envelope forms are due during April.

Marie T. Miller, manager of the regional Social Security office, said yesterday that every household worker who meets the 24-day-$50 test is covered by the social security law.

This test is explained in a booklet, "Do You Have a Maid?" which may be secured at any social security office, post office, or office of the collector of internal revenue. The booklet also includes a postcard for use in requesting this simplified tax return blank.

Small Towns Mapping Own Defense Plans

(Editor's Note: This is the third of four articles detailing local Civil Defense preparations in Pennsylvania.)

By BILL LOFTUS.

Harrisburg (AP) — Pennsylvania's smaller communities are building their civil defense system to handle evacuees and bombed-out families in the event of an enemy attack.

Reports from these communities indicate defense planners are placing this task above that of building an organization to function before and after an air raid.

State defense leaders have pointed out it is unlikely that many of the smaller communities would be attacked by enemy bombers. Therefore, they feel organization of air raid and fire wardens and other similar services is desirable but not the prime goal.

A good example of the type of organization being developed in these communities is Mercer, a town with 3,000 population.

Last month the community was the scene of full-dress rehearsal for handling evacuees from Pittsburgh and Youngstown, O., following a hypothetical attack.

Some 250 townsmen, trained for this particular purpose, handled the arrival of a convoy of trucks containing "wounded" and "homeless" persons from the Metropolitan areas. The local high school took on the appearance of a hospital as doctors and nurses stood by to handle the evacuees.

In Ellwood City first aid courses have been launched under the sponsorship of civic, patriotic, and fraternal organizations. The high school has incorporated in its program of night classes two home nursing courses.

Somerset county's defense organization went into action during last winter's heavy snowfall and provided housing for about 400 motorists stranded on the Pennsylvania turnpike.

Lists of home owners have been compiled by the officials to handle evacuees. The home owners also have indicated the number of persons they would be able to handle during an emergency.

The organization in the county has been manned down to block wardens.

Crawford county has set up a mobile unit for emergency feeding a rescue and first aid unit, and a Geiger counter unit from the science department of Allegheny College.

Future plans call for establishment of training schools in various county communities. Classes in political routine, fire-fighting and rescue work, first-aid and air raid wardens' duties will be conducted.

More than 700 persons have been enlisted for duty in the organization. The system is being formed along the township-unit lines with the fire and police departments as additional units.

A uniform warning system is under consideration in McKean county. The defense leaders say the plan would set up a similar system in each city, borough, and township.

In Clinton county air raid signals have been tested. Both factory whistles and fire company sirens are being coordinated to make sure they can be heard throughout the county.

The manager of the Lock Haven airport has recruited civilian pilots and mechanics to take part in any necessary medical supply air lift needed to carry supplies to stricken areas.

The remainder of the program is in the paper status right now. But key personnel have been selected.

Organizations in Cambria and Schuylkill counties has reached the stage where top-level personnel are being selected.

In Cambria County, defense leaders say their major handicaps are public apathy, lack of funds and lack of detailed training programs. A survey of schools in Johnstown to pick air raid shelters is one bright spot.

Cambria still lacks permanent air raid warning centers. The air raid signal system has been termed inadequate. More volunteer workers are needed.

Future meetings are planned in Schuylkill county to outline more definitely what is to be done along organizing lines.

Punxsutawney in Jefferson county is the scene of weekly classes for members of the rescue squad who are receiving first aid instruction. State police are conducting weekly classes for candidates enlisting in the police auxiliary.

Of the community's 9,500 population about 300 persons have enlisted for volunteer duty. Westmoreland county and Greensburg are going ahead with plans for rounding out and filling in the organizational chart.

Many community meetings have been held by the local defense councils. Headquarters has been set up in the county court house with a clerk to handle the administrative details.

(Tomorrow—The big problems facing Pennsylvania civil defense planners.)

Semi-Annual Assembly To Open Today

Bangor — All day today Jehovah's Witnesses from Pennsylvania Circuit No. 2 will converge at the Blue Valley Farm Show auditorium, Bangor-Pen Argyl highway, in anticipation of their three-day semi-annual circuit assembly beginning officially tonight at 7. Upwards of 900 are expected today, an attendance that will climb to almost 1500 by Sunday afternoon.

Almost all these ministers are being housed in private homes in Bangor and Pen-Argyl. Their meals are furnished by the cafeteria in the basement of the Kingdom Hall opposite the Farm Show auditorium. This cafeteria, as well as all other departments for the assembly, is manned entirely by volunteer help.

Tonight C. A. Steele will speak to the group on "Thoroughly Accomplish Your Ministry" followed by the service meeting at 7:30 and the Theocratic Ministry school at 8:30.

The schedule for Saturday begins at 7 p. m. with songs and experiences succeeded by the circuit activity meeting at 7:15.

The highlight of the entire convention will be the public meeting at 3 p. m. Sunday when C. A. Steele will speak on "Surviving This World's End."

College Choir To Sing At Grace Church

The 32-voice chapel choir of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg will present a concert of sacred songs at Grace Evangelical Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg, on Sunday at 10:45 a. m. They come to Monroe county on Spring concert tour under the auspices of the Junior Bible class of Grace church. A capacity congregation is anticipated. The Craigs Meadows Lutheran congregation will attend in a group and an invitation is extended to the public to hear the choir.

Since its organization in 1934, the chapel choir has been a valuable part of Gettysburg Seminary's program of training men for the Christian ministry. Each year the choir makes an extended tour through a section of the east. This year the group will tour the north-eastern states, including New York, Connecticut, and New Jersey, as well as Pennsylvania and Maryland.

In addition to the main tour, the choir sings in cities and towns near the seminary during the Lenten season. It is under the direction of Dr. Robert S. Clippinger, organist and instructor of church music at the seminary.

The selections they will sing Sunday morning in Grace church are: "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Adrianus Te," "Lost In The Night," "Beautiful Saviour," "I Waited For The Lord," "The God of Abraham Praise," "Let Us Break Bread Together," "Lo, How A Rose E'er Blooming," "Holy Lord Of All," "The Lord Hath Commanded His Kindness," "The Glorious Love," "Our Strength Is In The Lord." The final number was written by Galles as the baccalaureate anthem for the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Fort Penn IOOF Marks 105th Year

Wednesday night, a large number of Odd Fellows belonging to Fort Penn Lodge and their wives celebrated the 105th anniversary of this lodge with a turkey dinner and entertainment at the IOOF hall, Stroudsburg.

Harry M. Albert officiated as master of ceremonies. Rev. Clyde Levergood, as guest speaker, chose the topic, "Responsibility."

Describing and interpreting how that virtue is the backbone of the principles of the order as well as the better way of life, he declared it seemed to produce renewed vitality to live up to it.

Following the banquet there was group singing with Numa Snyder at the piano.

Then followed the showing of the "Tournament of Roses" film by Ben Coolbaugh through the courtesy of Ernest Wyckoff as well as an interesting picture of Odd Fellowship presented by the superintendent of the orphanage at Sunbury, Pa.

Three attractive teen-age girls living at the orphanage (whose fathers had been Odd Fellows until their death) also entertained.

Chairman of the committee was Raymond Walters and his assistants were Ted Heller, Leon Parcell, James Agins and J. R. Gavin.

Sunday Schools Of District 3 To Sponsor Religious Workshop

District Three of the Monroe County Sunday School association will sponsor a religious workshop at Pocono Township High school Tuesday, April 24, at 8 p. m.

It has been arranged in an effort to assist Sunday school teachers and superintendents in administering their jobs more effectively.

The workshop period will be divided into two 50-minute sessions with an interval for worship.

Three subject groups are planned. The intermediate and senior group will be under the direction of John R. Wilson, general secretary of the YMCA. Teachers in this group will discuss needs and interest of junior-senior High school pupils will suggest ways in which the church can provide effective answers to these needs through its program of Christian education.

Dele H. Learn, past president of the Monroe County Sunday School association, will head the adult and administration group. Topics will include enlisting workers in the Sunday church school, related activities in Christian education, ways of administering the Sunday school.

Discussions will include preparations for the children, including room, equipment, use of space, arrangement. Teachers in this group will also discuss teaching aims, techniques of teaching and the use of materials.

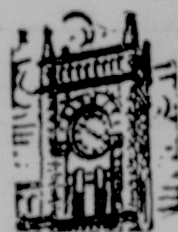

Mrs. Hubert Newton will be in charge of the junior group. This

MRS. HOMEMAKER

To please you is the aim and ambition of our entire personnel. And only on the success of our efforts can we expect to conduct successfully such an outstanding enterprise as ours. Evidently we have been successful. But that's not enough. Better than anything we might say, our HOME SERVICE BUREAU established 15 years ago, and now under the direction of Marian Kemp, noted Home Economist, was established primarily to assist you with your food problems, to help you please your family and friends. And further, a host of COURTEOUS REPRESENTATIVES man our stores and markets to demonstrate that your consideration comes first with us. Tell us where we fail, and others where we succeed. Thanks a lot.

His first haircut

Compare the cost of your telephone service with the cost of other things, and you'll agree that your telephone service is a bargain.

This boy's first haircut, for example, will cost more than twice as much as his father's first haircut cost.

Don't blame the barber. Blame the dollar. It buys less than half as much today as it used to.

It buys less for us, too. The cost of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business is going up and up, just like the cost of supplies and equipment for other businesses.

Even so, in relation to almost anything you can name, telephone service is high in value and low in cost. . . . It has never been so valuable to so many people as it is today.

Everything In U.S. Seems Bigger, Better To American Returning From Overseas

By Ruth Haller Ottaway

New York—Arrived in New York we are re-impressed with our own country. Strength, power, forthrightness, freedom and a general will for good are in the very air. New York is so sumptuous compared with London that comparison is embarrassing!

Our first copy of a New York Sunday newspaper was so heavy that that we could scarcely carry it. Three hundred twenty-two pages, 9 sections; 96 pages of news; drama and music, 36; magazine 80; book-review 32; classified ads 32, and stupendous advertising all of which means prosperity. Our American cities of a population of ten thousand or more can boast an eight-page journal.

The London Sunday Times reaches its maximum in 12 pages, (8 daily.) The front page as ever is covered with legal notices, births, deaths and personals, and always with a Bible verse hearing such as "Be not afraid for I am with you" etc.

Twenty-nine small ads on a typical Sunday included two very large ones from American firms, Maxwell House Coffee, and the Burroughs Adding Machine.

The Daily Mail of six pages carried 30 ads, comics, crossword puzzles, athletics, editorial, news and a fuel saving contest sponsored by the Ministry of Food and Power. The usual masthead ad, looking like a coat-of-arms, amused us—a small bear with the slogan "Sheer loveliness. Bear Brand Superfine Stockings!"

Yet the London newspaper, The People (comparable to our N. Y. Daily News or Mirror) claims the largest circulation in the world—eight million.

Content of English, French Newspapers

Even with restricted space, in England we read articles on such delightful subjects as "Sudden Spring." "How exciting it would be if we could go out at a particular hour and see Spring begin—". News and editorials are of the best.

In France, Le Figaro, with eight pages, ran a series of articles on Oceanography. We sent one such article to an American friend and oceanographic scholar with the comment, "Probably nothing new, but French." The astonishing reply was, "It contained something definitely new, and I sent it to Washington."

As with us, there are cheap sheets galore, but the best papers cover a wide and high-level gamut in small space.

Farewell, England

What a relief to hear and read little of their interminable meat shortage and unceasing fowl-pest. That is what the people want. A government that gives them little meat, coal, electricity, gas, eggs, sugar and bacon. Yet after Churchill's six centure motions of meat, coal, nuts, steel, railway and defense, the Socialist government still stands. That the general elections will oust it is doubtful. However, with all of the nationalization failures of the Attlee administration, surprisingly Britain is now able to get on without Marshall Plan aid. And Attlee is popular despite the gay doggerel, "Attlee gave them something too, free false teeth and 'ought to chew."

Bigger and Better

Everything in the United States does seem "bigger and better" even to a returning American. An Englishwoman on the United Nations staff here for a year told us that she was overwhelmed upon arrival because it was really true that things here were almost stridently bigger and better. Their robins are the size of sparrows but sing with a mellifluous golden voice. When she saw large red-breasted birds throwing out their chests with a deep chirp, she was hysterical with laughter to learn that they were American robins. Typically bigger and better! Even the birds.

Prosperity in the United States

The deprivations, low wage and standard of living in England with a government tax three times higher than ours makes us doubly appreciative of our privileges.

With all of our labor and cost of living problems, our present fame for crime and official corruption, our MacArthur and foreign policy quarrels, the United States spells prosperity. Stay in England, and how you will believe it! Return, and see your country with new eyes of pride and devotion.

classes, and all newspapers. France is equally skeptical about him but less vehement. Even before the present impasse and dismissal of the general, there was the strong and bitter feeling that he was leading into a world war before the Atlantic Treaty nations, impoverished and devastated by World War Two could be ready to defend themselves which they are determined to do.

The pulse of England and France beats fast with the fear of global war together with the majority of the United Nations who feel unprepared and with our government administration which is trying to avoid it, wrongly or rightly.

The hostesses were: Mrs. H. K. Bellis, Mrs. John Bellis, Miss Ruth Ervey, Mrs. Russell Reimer, Mrs. John B. Wildrick, Jr. Other guests were Mrs. Russell Henry and Mrs. Nick Ervey.

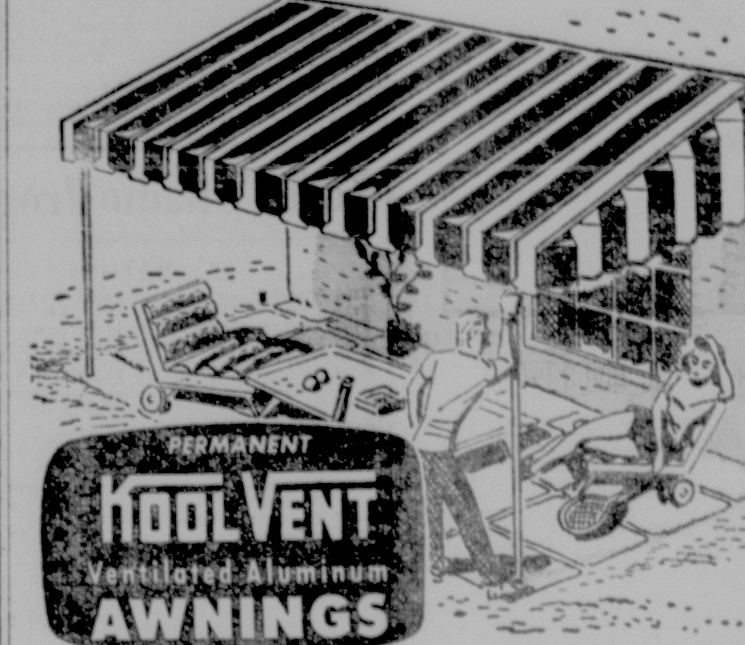

Miss Ruth Ervey attended the Inter-Fraternity dance at Penn-State over the weekend.

Oil Softens Wax

It is not a very wise policy to use an oiled mop on waxed floors, as the oil softens wax. Waxed floors should be swept with a mop or soft brush entirely free from oil.

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Big results start from previous day, not so stimulating. This is a day for action, accomplishment in your own plan and in other interests. Stop out!

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Also cheerful in your sector but may have to employ your fine faculties more consistently if school grades, matters of gain with today with the right effort, win time for relaxing, too.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Journalists, reporters, advertising, promoting worthy projects, studying difficult matters, scientific research, legal and judicial affairs highly sponsored. A good day all told.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—Fine Moon, Sun, other planetary aspects augur for a prosperous, pleasant day if you are up to par. Do your share and keep right things humming; promote government, community interests.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo)—Your Sun and most planets encourage all-out endeavor to get urgent matters well on way to completion. Help charity and other worthy projects where you can. Luck and success.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo)—Excellent opportunity for exploiting your special talents, adding good undertakings, matters that need artistic, business, accurate handling. Write, create! It's your day.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra)—You should, in the near future, be able to defeat the high tide and clearer in judgment this fine planetary day.

etary day. Not a wholly personal day but all sound effort for good causes and your occupation will gain. October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio)—No restricting Mars rays, and other planets pour down generous, beneficent rays to give your effort impetus, creative power. You can enjoy today and reap benefits for sound management.

November 21 to December 20 (Sagittarius)—Respects best for money, business, since the 14th. So? Don't lose valuable time on non-essentials, do aim advance in your specific occupation; try to increase honorably your assets.

December 21 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Tops now for mental and physical work, interests to further your own and your family's security. Military, government matters more favored. Professional fields, labor, study honored.

January 21 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Some restricting influences linger from yesterday but beneficent rays from most planets encourage all-out effort in all worthy lines; industry, professions, home interests. Relax, too.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Encouraging, inspiring day—make the most of fine influences. Try new, difficult projects, tasks. Don't fear to venture, sensibly; use well your talent and capability.

YOU BORN TODAY? Studios, staunch of purpose, a keen mentality, may at times be too easily discouraged, displaced at setbacks. Don't permit these or any other tendencies to grow. They can defeat the high tide and that can be yours. Head up, no
